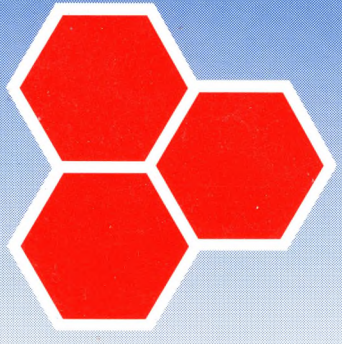
Roaming Guide

FALL / WINTER 1993



FOLLOW ME ROAMING®

Follow Me Roaming is a state-of-the-art call forwarding service that allows your calls to follow you when you travel to other cities in which both your home and visited systems have this feature available, as well as reciprocal Roaming Agreements in effect. Cities offering this service are noted in the Roaming Guide section with a "Y" (for Yes) under the column headed "FMR." If "N" (for NO) appears, the Follow Me Roaming service is not yet available in that area. In these cities, the instructions listed for "Inbound Calls" on page 5 must be used.

To Activate Follow Me Roaming: Simply dial ✻ (asterisk) 18 and press SEND. A confirmation tone or recording will tell you that the service has been activated and approximately when it will begin. Press the END button. Once activated, callers in your home service area need only dial your 7-digit cellular phone number and your calls will be forwarded to you.

To Deactivate Follow Me Roaming: To manually deactivate FMR during the day, dial ✻ (asterisk) 19 and press SEND. Follow Me Roaming automatically deactivates at midnight in the visited service area and requires reactivation each day. Charges will include local roaming rates plus any long distance charges between your home city and the city in which you are roaming.

Activating Follow Me Roaming will deactivate all other forms of Call Forwarding.

Follow Me Roaming is a registered trademark of GTE Telecommunication Services.

General Safety Tips

- ❑ Disconnect Your Phone Before Jump Starting Your Battery — Before you jump start your vehicle's battery, turn OFF your phone's power switch, then disconnect the main power fuse under the hood located near the car battery. If you cannot find this fuse, contact your Authorized Installation Center.
- ❑ Turn Off Your Phone in Blasting Areas — Observe signs that say "Turn Off Two-Way Radios." Your phone can interfere with blasting operations. Turn your phone's power switch to OFF, because even though you do not place a call, your phone will transmit an incoming call unless it is turned off.
- ❑ Do Not Use Your Cellular Phone on Planes — The FAA prohibits the use of cellular phones while aboard commercial airliners. Portable units must be turned OFF due to possible interference with communication and navigation systems.
- ❑ Purchase the Proper Phone Options — Select a cellular phone with the hands-free speakerphone option. Have the microphone installed on the sun visor directly above your line of vision, so you can keep your eyes on the road.
- ❑ Insist on a Demonstration — Learn how to use the phone safely at the time the phone is installed or before a test drive.
- ❑ Assure Proper Installation — The handset should be easily accessible, allowing you to drive normally.
- ❑ Driving Is the Priority — If you must talk on the phone while your car is moving, keep the conversation brief. Dial when stopped.
- ❑ Assess the Traffic Situation — Before placing or receiving calls, make sure you are aware of road and traffic distractions.
- ❑ Minimize Distractions — Do not take notes while driving.
- ❑ Buckle Up — Seat belts save lives. Dial 911 to report crimes and accidents.
- ❑ Use Memory Dialing — Save frequently called phone numbers within the phone's memory.

Introduction to Roaming

- What is roaming? Roaming is the ability to place and receive calls on your cellular phone when you're traveling outside your "home" coverage area. If the "Roam" indicator on your phone is lit up, you should be able to place or receive a call. This Roaming Guide tells you how to use your phone wherever you roam. Procedures vary from city to city.
- Most carriers will allow you to use their system automatically. Your cellular service provider has made arrangements, through inter-carrier agreements, for you to make and receive calls in most of the markets listed in this guide. But if you have difficulty placing a call, you may wish to call the customer service number listed for the carrier you want to use. The carrier may request information about you, e.g., your home system, mobile telephone number, telephone serial number, and a major credit card. In a few cases, no roaming will be available, even though a system may be operating.
- Most coverage areas have two cellular service providers: the "A" (non-wireline) carrier and the "B" (wireline) carrier. Some cities have only one system available at this time. Please take note that some cities that are listed show service existing on either "System B Only" or "System A Only." Many of these areas will soon be offering service on both systems. For the most recent information, please contact your local Customer Service Representative.
- Your cellular telephone can probably operate on either system, but it has been programmed to search for the same type of system that you use in your "Home" service area — whether the "A" or "B" System. If that system is not yet available, your phone should search for the opposite system. If your cellular phone requires that you manually choose the other system via the "A-B" selectable system switch, please follow the instructions in your Owner's Manual and see page 5 under "Roaming with the A/B Advantage." When returning to your home system, you should return your phone's system switch to its original programming. If you are uncertain as to the best mode for your home area or are unsure of whether your home system is an A or B System, please contact your local Customer Service Representative.
- New cellular coverage areas are being added every month. We have taken care to include as many new systems as possible, including several areas that may not yet be operating when you receive this guide. These cities are noted with a small "★" and their tentative operation dates are listed at the bottom of the page. Additional areas will also begin operation soon.
- Information included in your Roaming Guide: Dialing information is listed on pages 6 through 59 for more than 1,600 areas in the United States and Canada. Smaller cities and towns served by neighboring areas can be found on pages 60 through 63. For your convenience, an Area Code and Time Zone map has been included in the back. Please note that the area code for a roamer access number is usually, but not always, the area code used for local calls.

Outbound Calls: How Do I Call Someone When I'm Roaming?

First, check your phone to see if the roam light is displayed, then follow the dialing pattern listed for the city you're visiting.

- Service Provider — The name of the service provider and whether it's an A cellular system provider or a B cellular system provider. Referring to the system provider will help you select the cellular system on which you prefer to roam. For more information in selecting your service provider while roaming, see "Roaming With The A/B Advantage" on the next page.
  Customer Service —You can dial the number listed under "Customer Service" to call the local carrier from a landline phone or your cellular phone. You can use the number listed under "From Mobile" to call the local carrier only from your cellular phone. This is usually a toll-free call. The "*" represents the asterisk button on your phone.
- Roamer Access Number —This is the number that callers need to access the cellular system on which you are roaming. See the instructions for "Inbound Calls" on page 5.
- Per Day and Per Minute Charges —You will incur the "per day" charge (if applicable) the first time you make or receive a call on your cellular phone in a service area other than your home market. This charge covers a 24 hour period which begins at 12 A.M. In addition, you will incur the "per minute" charge for each minute or fraction of a minute that a call is in progress. Other charges may apply — Some carriers charge for attempted calls and/or access to landline service. Taxes are not included.
- Dialing Code — Two codes are listed for each city on both systems. Example: "10 / 1+." The first code listed (10, 1+ or 7) is the dialing pattern necessary to make local calls. The second code (10, 1+ or 0+) is the pattern necessary to make long distance calls.
  - To Make Local Calls While Roaming — In all the examples above, you can make a local call by dialing "10 digits" (the local area code + the local number). In some markets, you dial only the seven digit local number, "1+10 digits" in others.
  - To Make Toll (Long Distance) Calls — In both Dothan on the A system and Enterprise on the B system, dial only "10" digits (area code + number). A "1" or "0" is not required to make long distance calls in these instances. In both Demopolis on the A system and Enterprise on the B system, you must dial "1+" ("1" + area code + number). In some cities, you must dial "0+" ("0" + area code + number) in order to make a long distance call. "0 Plus" calls require the use of a long distance credit card and the long distance portion of the call will appear on your calling card bill. All international calls require "0 Plus."

Inbound Calls: How To Receive Calls When You're Roaming

- In order for you to receive a call when you're roaming, your caller must know the Roamer Access Code for the cellular system in the city you're visiting. Your caller should first dial "1" plus the 10-digit Roamer Access Number. The caller will then hear either a dial tone or a series of beeps. The caller should then dial the Home Area Code of your cellular telephone and the seven-digit number (a "1" or "0" is not required). Your caller must dial from a true Touch-Tone™ phone. If Touch-Tone™ service is unavailable to the caller, a tone generating device, available at many electronics stores, may be used.
- But, if your caller is in the same city in which you're roaming, the caller doesn't have to dial a "1" or the area code before dialing the roamer access number. Your caller should dial the seven-digit Roamer Access Number, wait for the tone or beep, then dial your Home Area Code, and your seven-digit cellular phone number.
- If you receive a long distance call on your cellular telephone, whether you are in your home service area or roaming, you pay only the cellular airtime charges for the duration of the call. Your caller pays the long distance charges when the roamer access is used. Please contact your local Customer Service Representative about exceptions to this rule.

Roaming with the A/B Advantage

- If you frequently use your phone when you travel, you may want us to reprogram your phone so that it can roam on both "A" and "B" cellular systems. Right now, your phone may be programmed to operate on only the same type of system, A or B, that you use in your home area. All major U.S. and Canadian cities have cellular service, and new cellular systems are being built in more and more rural areas. Since some of these have only one cellular system at this time, the A/B advantage will enable you to roam in areas which offer only the opposite system. For proper programming, refer to your phone's user manual under "System Select." Never switch your telephone to operate on the opposite system when you are in your home service area — you will not be able to place or receive calls. If you program your telephone for "HOME," your phone will work only in your home service area.
- If your phone is programmed either A/B or B/A (A System Preferred or B System Preferred), when you enter a coverage area your phone will automatically search for either the A System first or the B System first and, if it doesn't find one, it will search for the opposite system. You may be able to use your cellular telephone in additional service areas not listed in this manual, since cellular service companies are continually expanding their coverage. If you are an A System subscriber, use A/B. B System subscribers should use B/A. In most instances it is best to set the preference for the same type of system you use at home.
- For assistance in reprogramming your phone, simply call Customer Service. After you give the representative the make and model of your cellular phone, he or she will tell you how to reprogram it or advise you to stop by the service department.

Touch-Tone™ is a registered trade-mark of AT&T.
